

Empower your LPG Market Decisions with Expert Analysis and Forecasts from OPIS

The OPIS Global LPG Outlook offers a unique blend of weekly market updates and monthly deep-dive analysis, specifically tailored for LPG (propane and butane) market participants. This new report, backed by Chemical Market Analytics' expertise and the OPIS Mont Belvieu benchmark, provides the comprehensive insights needed to navigate the global LPG market.

Market Challenge

Global LPG markets are dynamic, with shifting supply and demand driven by seasonal changes, geopolitical factors, and economic indicators. Traditional reports often lack the specificity or frequency needed by LPG buyers and sellers, leaving them to navigate the market with incomplete, unreliable data.

How We Help

The OPIS Global LPG Outlook delivers precise and actionable intelligence. By focusing specifically on propane and butane, this report fills the gap left by broader NGL and petrochemical reports. Every week, you'll receive a succinct market update, and every month, a thorough analysis of global supply, demand, trade flows, and pricing, with forecasts extending 18-24 months.
